Perfumers, it's time to be reacquainted with Indian Sandalwood (Santalum album). One of the oldest perfumery materials in the world, this precious ingredient has had a tumultuous history, plagued by illegal poaching and adulteration. Little wonder it all but vanished from the perfumer's palette.

But that's about to change.

By sourcing seeds from Mysore, the birthplace of this premium fragrant sandalwood, we at TFS have established the world's largest plantations of Santalum album in Australia's tropical north. What's more, we've created a sustainable and pure supply of this oil for perfumers.

We've partnered with the prestigious American Society of Perfumers to create a competition that celebrates this new supply, inviting perfumers of all ages and experiences to create a fragrance using TFS Indian sandalwood (Santalum album) oil. The other secret ingredient? Your ingenuity.

Just as we've given new life to Santalum album, we want to pique your creative appetites and drive innovation and imagination in your space.

Inspired by the rebirth of an ancient ingredient, the competition is about celebrating the artistry of perfumery and finding inspiration in forgotten places.

1. The Brief

This competition is about giving you the chance to work with this ancient ingredient.

As a result we're removing normal parameters of a commercial fragrance brief like consumer profile and budget. Instead we're asking you to use our plantation-grown Indian sandalwood (Santalum album) to inspire you, with a few basic guides.

Your fragrance should be:

- Male, female or unisex
- Eau de toilette (EDT) @ 12% (alcohol 40B/H2O)
- Minimum 1% TFS plantation-grown Indian sandalwood (Santalum album) oil (sample provided)
- All Entries must be supplied as a base (alcohol will be added at the time of judging)

2. Perfume Description

All Entries should complement the TFS brand values of innovation, sustainability and authenticity. To learn more about the ingredient and the TFS brand, refer to the Soil to Oil brochure and visit the Ideas Board on the website www.indian-sandalwood-perfume.com.

3. Safety and Regulatory Requirements

All Entries must meet RIFM / IFRA guidelines for an EDT @ 12%.

4. Submitting your Entry

Once you've prepared your fragrance according to the guidelines provided, you'll need to:

- Send your Entry to:
Paige Crist
4142 24th St #317
Long Island City, NY USA 11101
- An Applicant must supply:
1.5mL of base in the labelled spray bottle provided (will be made to 12.5mL EDT for judging)
10mL of base in the labelled bottle provided
Both bottles should be sealed within the labelled zip lock bag provided.
- All entries must be accompanied by a Statement of Creative Intent providing an outline of the nature and ingredients of the base.
- Applicants must email tfs@indian-sandalwood-perfume.com to confirm the submission of their Entry, and provide any relevant tracking details to assist with receipt.
- Entries postmarked 6th May 2016 will be accepted only if delivered prior to 11th May 2016.

5. Judging

Two prizes will be awarded:

1. Major prize for the winning entry - return economy airfare to Australia and internal flights to Kununurra and Albany, including seven nights of accommodation and a trophy in recognition.
2. Emerging talent award for a perfumery student or junior perfumer - A$500 cash prize and a trophy in recognition.

An independent panel of fragrance professionals will decide the winning entries.

All Entries will be evaluated blind by the judges. Entries will be provided in plain bottles (previously coded by TFS), and will be evaluated on blotters over a period of ten (10) minutes.

Up to seven (7) finalists in total will be identified and will be contacted by TFS. This will comprise of up to five (5) finalists for the major prize, and up to two (2) finalists for the junior award.

The judges will then re-evaluate the finalists on blotter and skin for a period of 1 hour.

Entries will be the property of TFS and will not be returned to Applicants.

The judges' decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into.

The winners will be announced at the Opening Cocktail Party of the World Perfumery Congress.

6. Availability of Product Base

Finalists will be contacted on the 31st of May and will be asked to provide additional samples of 20mL of base. This will be used for sampling purposes at the Opening Cocktail Party of the World Perfumery Congress.

7. Other Conditions

Conditions of Entry
